Moles

Skin & integument

CANONICAL SOURCE - VERBATIM

Occuring in most, moles are a localized growth due to a glandular reaction and are best left alone from outer effect unless they cause a disturbance.

The following recipe should be applied and massaged around and over the mole twice a day for two hours with a two-day rest.

- Small amount of castor oil with a little amount of baking soda (only that necessary for massage of affected area) after massage the affected area will be sore for a while and then the mole will disappear.
